Gifts that make you Grow

Corporate Gifting

A gift generates a sense of joy and belonging in a person's mind. Hence, when a person receives a gift from a brand, it not just establishes a positive association but also increases building of long-term loyalty. A well-timed and well-personalised gift can help you build that connection. The same feelings of association foster in-house when employees are appreciated. These feelings translate into their work as they feel more valued. Ultimately leading to better services and more business.

Utilizing every opportunity of branding is at the heart of corporate gifting and useful gifts only add to the business and help build goodwill in the long run.

Laser marking on the other hand is a broader category of methods to leave marks on an object. The technique does not involve the use of inks, nor does it involve tool bits which contact the engraving surface and wear out, giving it an advantage over alternative engraving or marking technologies where inks or bit heads have to be replaced regularly.

Heat Transfer printing includes vinyl heat transfer and digital heat transfer. With the vinyl heat transfer process, a machine is used to cut out designs and letters in pieces of coloured vinyl. A heat press is then used to transfer each vinyl colour of the design onto the object being printed.

UV printing is a form of digital printing that uses ultra-violet lights to dry or cure ink as it is printed. As the printer distributes ink on the surface of a material (called a substrate) specially designed UV lights follow close behind, curing or drying - the ink instantly.

Sublimation printer is a computer printer which uses heat to transfer dye onto materials such as a plastic card, paper, or fabric. Many consumer and professional dye-sublimation printers are designed and used for producing photographic prints, ID cards, clothing and more.

D-embossing is a stamping process for producing raised or sunken designs or relief in sheet metal. The process can be made by means of matched male and female roller dyes. Using the dye along the logo to be D-embossed can have a sunken or raised outcome on PU or leather material.
